War Seems Inevitable Between Greece and Turkey.

Great Excitement in Athens Over the Disturbed Conditions.

Said the European Powers do Not Support Greece's Position.

Italy Will Not Oppose Greece--The Latest Developments.

Athens Feb 13 1 10 a m The greatest excitement prevails here The newspapers have issued midnight editions containing the report that the Turkish Government had chartered a steamer for the purpose of transporting troops to Crete and this in the face of the assurances given the powers by the Porte that Turkey would not send reinforcements to the island

The newspapers and the crowds in the streets declared that the action of the Turks taken with full cognizance of the Porte which has again proved if proof is necessary, that not the slightest confidence can be placed in the assurance or promises

Hurry denunciations of the Turkish Government are heard on every hand

The city is alive at this hour and the principal streets are filled with Greeks who demand that the Grecian warships shall prevent the landing of further troops in Crete It is believed that orders to that effect have been given to Prince George and there is no doubt he will fully carry out his instructions

In that case war with Turkey would probably result unless diplomacy or a superior force should be employed to divert Greece from the determination to protect the Cretan insurgents and perhaps to bring about annexation

Attitude of Powers Toward Crete

London Feb 13 M Hanotaux the French foreign minister has telegraphed to Athens that the powers blockade Crete and that they occupy Canea Rethimo and other centres of disorder pending a settlement of the dispute that will be satisfactory to the Cretans Authoritative negotiations on these proposals are proceeding

A high authority of the foreign office today told a representative of the United Associated Press that he believed the proposals of M Hanotaux were a Franco-Russian scheme to permit Greece to occupy the island with Prince George second son of the King of Hellas as governor general the island continuing to pay tribute to Turkey

Italy Will Not Oppose Greece

Rome Feb 12 A semi official note states that Italy will not oppose Greece in any action she may take on the Cretan question It is added that Italy does not wish to serve Turkey in any way

War Seems Inevitable

Berlin, Feb 12 The Post this evening publishes an article in which it says war between Greece and Turkey is almost inevitable

The paper adds that Turkey is entitled to allow her troops to cross the Thessalian frontier in view of the action of Greece

A Blockade

Vienna Feb 12 It is reported here that a blockade of Crete by the European powers will be established shortly

Greece Not Supported

London Feb 13 The Morning Post publishes a statement that the powers are unanimous in the condemnation of the attitude of Greece and they will not allow her to continue her present course She must, it is added, abandon the idea of commencing war with Turkey

Invasion of Greek Territory

London Feb 12 The Athens correspondent of the News telegraphs that Turkey is forming the marauding bands of Albania into bodies that will be employed to invade Thessaly The Greek government is fully alive to the danger in this direction and is hastening troops to the frontier

It is reported that a collision has occurred between the troops and Albanians on the frontier

Notice of Attack Will Be Given

Canea Feb 12 The Cretans and foreign councils here have agreed that Halepa shall be regarded as a neutral territory until an attack is made on Canea In the event of such an attack being decided upon the consuls shall have 24 hours notice

The commander of the Greek warships here has promised the commander of the other war vessels to give them 48 hours notice in the event of his attacking the town

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

Discussed by Mr Lyman J Gage

Chicago Feb 12 In the course of his remarks at the banquet given him at the Commercial Club last night Lyman J Gage who will be the next Secretary of the Treasury, expressed his views fully on the present disturbed economic condition in the United States Among other things Mr Gage said

Wisely or unwisely I have pleaded for toleration, for patience with misunderstanding for a broad citizenship not limited to local surroundings a citizenship which welcomes and bears success because it lends power and influence to a larger social life to which duty and true happiness stand in close relation without fear, distrust and anxiety covering our fair land with a darkening cloud

The most advanced medical scientists now recognize that a very large number of so called diseases are the symptoms of functional derangement, not the result of organic changes According to the newer view the perturbations of function find their existing cause in the part of the physical organism known as the emotional centres Thus a sudden fear may either paralyze or accelerate the heart's action, overcoming life may kill—in a hundred other ways morbid emotional activity may work various disorders and kinds of outward morbid expression It also agreed that drugs and blisters are not effective remedies

The emotional centres must be addressed through mental impressions and stage terms Nothing long overthrow apparently disordered conditions of our social state a brief resume I have just given seems to illustrate and perhaps philosophically explain some portion of the phenomena we witness

To illustrate what I mean a highly respected friend of mine a lawyer of ability, in a recent letter indulges society but flies no specifications He argues in eloquent language and demands the ineffable but makes no practical suggestions And yet the duties and burdens of our social problems are on him as much as on any

LINCOLN'S DAY

Observed by Exchanges and Public Offices in New York

New York, Feb 12 In spite of the fierce gusts of icy wind and the whirling snow that held New York in a frigid grasp, the stars and stripes fluttered today from thousands of points in this city in honor of the 88th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln The day is now a legal holiday in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Minnesota and Washington

This is the second year of its observance in this State. It was marked by many banquets and ceremonies, but it was not as generally observed by the public as is Washington's birthday

All of the exchanges, banks and public offices were closed and many of the big down town corporations and wholesale houses also observed the day by remaining closed. In the retail districts comparatively few places were closed.

A number of small bills relating to the tariff were introduced in the House today Among them was one by Mr Bailey of Texas to place nickel with the free list where it was placed in the present law Repeal of the tax on the gross income of corporations which exceed $ 000 per annum was introduced by Mr Cooper of Tennessee

Mr Bailey of Texas introduced a bill providing that where it was found in the present law Repeal which is now 10 cents per pound for the third and new types shall be reduced to the 10 per cent ad valorem rate which is the rate to the McKinley rate 10 cents a pound and 20 per cent ad valorem respectively

If it exists a rate which is ten times the ad valorem rate of 10 cents a pound, the rate should be reduced not higher than the rate to the McKinley rate 10 cents a pound and 20 per cent ad valorem respectively

Arbitration Treaty—Desire to Agree on Time of Vote

When the Senate closed its work this afternoon and took up the arbitration treaty it appeared to be a desire to come to an understanding as to the time when a vote ought to be taken This decision was general The time was considered almost entirely just as to asking questions and were with nothing material resulting therefrom Mr Blackburn said the close of the session was drawing nigh and a conclusion ought to be reached The Senate should know whether it could reach a vote at this session or whether it would be best to postpone action until the first of March He was in favor of postponement but did not think the Senate could give the treaty the consideration the subject demanded at this session

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts said he voted in the affirmative and thought there was no good reason why a postponement should be had He believed a vote could be taken within the next few days unless the Senators were determined that debate should be protracted for the purpose of defeating delay Mr Hoar was supported by Mr Sherman, who expressed the hope that the matter would not be put over until the next session

OHIO SENATORSHIP.

Prominent Feature of Zanesville Convention.

All Was Harmonious, However, to Surprise Outsiders

A Rumor Regarding Endorsement of Mr. Hanna for Senator.

Zanesville O Feb 12 The Hanna men this morning seemed determined to bring on a fight over the Senatorship in the State Republican League convention to-day either directly through the election of officers or through a resolution endorsing Mr Hanna for Senator The Foraker people were keeping very quiet

President Leach said he would rule out of order any resolution of endorsement for D D Lease of Guernsey county said he was ready to meet that issue on the floor

The State Republican League convention was called to order at 10 30 a m After adopting resolutions regarding the selection of committees a recess was taken When the Congressional district committees to select members of the resolutions committee there were numerous hot engagements between the Hanna and Foraker supporters in several districts the differences arising out of the recent fight

At the afternoon session the committee on resolutions reported, endorsing the national platform and extending sympathy to Cuba

Mr Hanna's entrance was the signal for a great ovation

President Leach announced that Gov Bushnell was present and this gave the Foraker people a chance to shout Gov Bushnell was introduced, and address of the convention by flatly not touching on any facts and subject Mr Hanna was introduced and his appearance on the stage occasioned an unprecedented outburst of enthusiasm His remarks were flowery and eulogistic of the boys but were without special significance

The convention elected officers and to the surprise of not here every man was elected by acclamation, the differences having been settled in secret caucus of the candidates The convention then adjourned

The Senatorial question was not touched upon by the convention It is understood a attempt to introduce a resolution endorsing Hanna for Senator was defeated in committee

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Conducted by H L Gale at City Hall

In the afternoon yesterday Mr Gale spoke to a large audience of Christians on the subject of Working Souls Mr Gale believes that God works through the common people in carrying on His work His talk yesterday afternoon was full of encouraging words and inspiration to all

Special interest was manifested in the evening when it was the first time Mr Gale had spoken to those who are out of Christ, as he termed it Every seat in the hall was taken and many were standing in the aisles The Scripture was read by Secretary Jordan of the Y M C A Miss Rice gave a well received solo

Mr Gale began and that he wanted the audience to understand just what he was going to do He should present the claims of Christ and ask them to accept or reject

His text was Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision He said I believe there are scores of people in this city who are near the kingdom of God or they would be over the line There are some people who say that accepting Christ means stepping out into the dark to do that which does not appeal to the reason This is wrong

What is faith? Faith is an act of the mind based on evidence No sane man asks you have evidence back The evidence for the claims of Christ is abundant

First If God asks us to believe in Him No one asks us to believe in the existence without believing there is a God The handiwork reveals the Master If God asks us to believe in prayer He gives the promise and answers the request We see the evidence If He asks us to believe in Christ, He has fortold His life in the prophets and proved His power in history If He asks us to believe the Bible He shows us the influence of the Bible throughout the world and He convinces us of its truth If those who do not believe the Bible would only study it they would soon change their minds Mr Gale then related the case of Irish on and West in England who began to study to disprove the truth and were converted

He also spoke of Gen Lew Wallace's conversion as the result of his study of the Bible for literary purposes Do not accept what I say simply because I say it test it for yourself If you find it true be manly and step out for the truth

God made us to live upright lives Not there is not one brother would testify that he had lived an upright life I make no difference whether the sin is great or small If we have sinned all we have broken God's law and are under condemnation The world is going to be judged by this one truth Have you taken Jesus Christ as your Saviour?

You stand either with Christ or against Him You cannot be on both sides I bring you face to face with two roads The end of one road is death the end of the other road is life I want you to decide carefully which road you will take Now what stands in the way of your salvation? One word explains it Your will God has given us power to close our hearts against Him or to receive Him It remains with us How shall we become a christian? Meet the conditions and take Christ as your personal Saviour The condition that the Israelites were to meet when they were to be healed was that they look upon the brazen serpent

The condition that Christ brings is that you shall accept Him as your personal Saviour That may sound to some foolish, but it is God's plan, if you only knew what God had done to make it possible you would believe I do not ask you to come to Christ because you are going to die I ask you to take Him because you need Him to live aright but at the same time you must consider this question in the light of eternity I want something better than darkness to face when I come to death Among the saddest words ever spoken were those uttered by Mr Ingersoll at the funeral of his mother

I want a hope like D L Moody's that bears me up in the face of death and lights the grave with the radiance of heaven

When the invitation was given for those who desired to be christians to express that desire by rising, many stood

Mr Gale commended himself by his frank treatment of the subject

The services for Sunday are prayer meeting in City Hall at 9 30, meeting for women only 3 p m, meeting for men only at 7 30 o'clock

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1897.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The Republican voters of the city of Bangor will meet at the polling places in their several Wards on in the evening, for the purpose of electing delegates to a Convention to nominate a candidate for Mayor, to be supported at the Municipal election to be held March 8th, 1897. The polls will be kept open till eight o'clock, and the basis of representation will be as follows: Each Ward will be entitled to one delegate for every forty votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1896, and an additional delegate for a fraction of fifteen or more votes. The several Wards will be entitled to the following delegates: Ward 1, Three (3); Ward 2, Seven (7); Ward 3, Nine (9); Ward 4, Nine (9); Ward 5, Eight (8); Ward 6, Six (6); Ward 7, Seven (7). Each Ward will organize with a Chairman and Secretary and at the close of the polls will bring a certificate of the delegates elected to nominate a Mayor, to the City Committee at City Hall, who will be in session at 8.30 o'clock. The delegates elected will assemble in City Hall at 8.45 o'clock the same evening and proceed to nominate a candidate for Mayor. A list of those voting shall be kept in each Ward and each candidate shall have a printed list of delegates in each Ward, which list shall state that the delegates on that list will support him for the office of Mayor at the Convention of Delegates.

Friday, Feb'y 19th, 1897, at 6.30 o'clock

CAUCUS FOR WARD OFFICERS.

The Republican voters of the City of Bangor will meet in the polling places in their several Wards on to nominate one Alderman, three Councilmen, Warden and Clerk in each Ward to be supported at the Municipal election to be held March 8th, 1897, and to elect one member of the City Committee in each Ward to serve for the ensuing year.

Saturday, Feb'y 20th, at 7.30 o'clock,

Per order of the Republican City Committee,

ISAIAH K. STETSON, Chairman.
FRANK T. MASON, Secretary.
Bangor, Feb'y 8th, 1897.

One Week More.

The Republicans of Bangor have another week in which to organize for the caucuses to nominate a candidate for Mayor and members of the City Government. It is of the utmost importance that the days remaining be utilized to the best possible advantage in preparations looking to a full vote both on Friday and Saturday evenings. Men are sometimes prone to be careless in discharging the caucus duties. It is not unusual to hear a man say there will be enough men out so that one vote more or less will make no especial difference in the result. This is all wrong in theory and practice. Every citizen has his share of responsibility and should be ready to discharge it on such occasions, while it has often been the fact that one vote has changed the entire result in a caucus. The caucuses this spring are of grave importance to the city. The citizens generally appreciate this fact and should act accordingly.

With a full vote Dr. Robinson can be nominated in the ward primaries whether Mayor Beal participates in said primaries as a candidate or not. In a general caucus where it was possible to vote men without regard to past party affiliations, as was done last spring, the Mayor was able to force his own nomination regardless of the wishes of the Republican party, but under the new system the caucus will be under the control of the Republicans whose votes cannot be offset by Democratic votes. Printed ballots will be used with the name of the candidate at the top so that each voter can select the list of delegates representing the candidate of his choice without confusion and with the assurance that the delegates for whom he votes will express his preference for Mayor in the joint convention, provided, of course, that said delegates are elected by the majority vote of the ward. The system is in no sense complicated, is perfectly fair in its operation and no man who has the support of the Republicans has anything to fear from its adoption. It effectively clears the political atmosphere, however, by placing the selection of Republican candidates within the reach of the Republicans themselves, and if every member of the party does his duty by attending the caucuses the affairs of the city will be safely conducted for the coming year.

Protection and the South.

In the midst of the general denunciation heaped upon the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill it has to be said in favor of the bill that it has at least benefited the country in one respect. It has most effectively taught the people that a sensible protective tariff is necessary to prosperity. The lesson has been learned at a fearful cost, but in consequence it has taken root in places heretofore given over to the worship of free trade. This is especially noticeable in the South. For years that section of the country was placed just as confidently in the Democratic column in advance of an election as after the votes were counted. Within the past few years, however, there has been a change and the South is no longer solid. As the New York Press says it is interesting to note that two Southern States, North Carolina and Alabama, have made strong pleas before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives for a tariff that will protect the industries of those States. Not a dozen years ago the entire South was regarded as being unalterably opposed to protection, and one of the strongest hopes of the free traders was that they always could rely on the "Solid South" for enthusiastic assistance in fighting protective tariff legislation.

Since the repeal of the McKinley law, however, Maryland and West Virginia have joined the protection ranks and are now regarded by their own citizens as safely Republican, Tennessee and North Carolina also have repudiated the destructive economic doctrine of the Democratic party, but it has not been possible thus far in these States, Tennessee in particular, to convince the people who are in control of the election machinery to count the Republican votes as they are cast.

If the Wilson law has done no other good it has taught the South that a Republican tariff law gave it its most prosperous times since the war and that the Wilson law robbed it of the advantages which came to it in profusion during the Harrison administration. More clearly than anything else it has shown the South that from the Democratic party the most it can expect is a share of Federal offices, and the South, like the rest of the Nation, has come to see that Federal patronage is a mighty small item in the affairs of the people. It is protection that has broken the solid South, and it is protection that will efface entirely Mason and Dixon's line.

The Popular Vote.

The Philadelphia Press says: The last formality necessary to the election of a President of the United States was completed yesterday when the electors in all the fifty-two States in the Union met and cast the votes of their States for President and Vice President. The result was declared President-elect and Garrett A. Hobart Vice President-elect, the terms to begin at noon on the 4th of March next. The only ceremony now necessary is the inauguration which will occur in a few weeks' time and the new Administration will be started on its four years' career.

With three months gone by since the election and with all the formalities necessary to an official declaration of the result ended, it would naturally be supposed that an accurate count of the vote cast last November had been compiled. Authorities on the subject differ, however, and it is doubtful if the country will ever know exactly what was the popular poll at the general election in 1896. The three best authorities give the vote as follows: One credits McKinley with 7,105,729 votes, another a lower him 7,106,160 votes, and a third gives him 7,107,822 votes. Bryan's total vote differs more widely than McKinley's. The same three authorities give the Democratic candidate 6,502,077, 6,502,635 and 6,511,973. There is a variance also in the vote of all the minor candidates for the Presidency. As a consequence of these variations the total poll differs also. It is given as 13,012,072, 13,023,643 and 14,073,255. It is explained in the last total, however, that it includes all blank and defective ballots.

This variation in the vote cast for President last year is not a new occurrence. It has happened in every national election which has taken place in this country. If election was by popular vote this variation would become important in a close contest and the country ought to be kept in suspense for a long time. The present generation had in 1876 one illustration of the harm a disputed result can do and it does not care for another one. The election of a President then depended on one electoral vote and a final decision was not given until four months after the election. It is probable that if elections were by popular vote close contests might occur much oftener than they have. The electoral college method, clumsy and old-fashioned as it appears to be, has the merit of permitting the result to be known earlier and of making close elections less frequent.

The vote cast in the first five Presidential elections is not available. It is doubtful if any complete record has been kept of them. Only the electoral vote has been preserved. It was not until 1824 that a full compilation of the popular vote was made. The total poll was then 363,002. Four years later in the Presidential election of 1828 a large growth in the popular poll was seen, the total being 1,163,328, an increase of 801,326. From that time the poll has gone on growing by leaps and bounds until last year it reached or passed 14,000,000 votes, or more than forty times greater than it was seventy-two years before. In 1828 the population of the country was about 12,000,000, and in 1896 it was estimated at 71,000,000 or 72,000,000, an increase of nearly six fold. But the vote of 1,156,328 cast in 1828, had grown according to the lowest estimate, to 13,012,072 in 1896, or an increase of over twelve fold. So in the past sixty-eight years the vote has increased twelve times as fast as the population. This should be an encouragement to those who fear that the interest of the people in popular government is decreasing.

With the constant increase in the popular poll it will probably soon be found necessary to find more simple and accurate methods for receiving, compiling and reporting the vote of the country. A system of voting and counting which served fifty years ago is out of date and needs bringing up to the times. It this is done and a plan devised for the prompt and accurate return of the popular vote the country may be saved from the harm which might come from the result being delayed in a close contest.

The Boundary Line.

When a young girl steps from girlhood into womanhood, she enters a new and strange country. A land of promise and hope, yet full of hidden dangers. Whether she will find happiness or misery depends largely upon the health and condition of the delicate, special organism which is the source and centre of her womanhood.

The lives of young women are often wrecked, because of a mistaken sense of modesty, which leads them to neglect the earlier symptoms of feminine weakness. These troubles unless corrected, develop into serious, chronic difficulties which become a dragging burden, ruining life's best opportunities and blighting all possibility of happy wifehood and motherhood.

Any woman suffering from these delicate complaints needs the health-giving power of Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It heals and strengthens the womanly organs, stops weakening drains, gives vitality to the nerve-centres, and restores perfect organic soundness and constitutional energy. It is the only medicine devised for this purpose by a skilled and experienced specialist in diseases of the feminine organism.

"Mrs. W. H. Duncan, of Arlington, Md, writes: 'I have used your Favorite Prescription and am never tired of recommending its praises. When my lady friends complain, I say 'Why don't you take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription?' I told an anxious mother, whose daughter 18 years old, had not been right for five months, about the medicine, and after the young lady had taken two-thirds of a bottle of Favorite Prescription she was all right.' She had been treated by two of our best doctors."

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," sent paper-bound on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. Or, a handsome cloth-bound copy for 31 stamps. Address, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE DAVID OF THE PEOPLE.

He Slays the Giant Disease With His Little Pellets.

The Sales of His Remedies Reached a Total of 4,602 Bottles in Bangor February 8th.

What Stronger Proof Does Any One Wish That Munyon Vanquishes Disease and That the Citizens of Bangor Believe It?

Thursday was a record-breaker in the sale of Munyon's Remedies at the retail stores of Bangor. Several leading druggists were visited, and without a single exception they all declared that during their whole business experience they have never seen medical preparations of any kind that sold so rapidly as Munyon's, and agreed that this enormous demand could only be created by the wonderful curative power of these remedies. Almost every person purchasing relates how some friend has been cured in a few hours or else, having been cured themselves, they desire to send the medicine to some friend far away, whom they know to be suffering.

A half hour spent in any drug store where these little pellets are sold will convince the most skeptical that Prof. Munyon has faded, discovered a new method of treating disease, which will cure 90 per cent. of the people who use it.

In not one single instance did the reporter hear anything but the highest praise for the remedies, and he was told by the pharmacists that in almost every case where the cures had failed to give relief it was proven that the wrong remedy had been taken through the ignorance of the person as to what disease he was suffering from. From facts gathered it seems that Munyon's generous free distribution of Rheumatism Cure to the citizens of Bangor will result in increased renown, as wherever you go you hear the name of Munyon associated with the wonderful cures he has effected.

If you are suffering with any disease whatever you can make no mistake in giving these cures a trial, as they cost but 25 cents and are perfectly harmless. Caution! A certain druggist, on being asked if he kept Munyon's remedies, replied: "Yes, a few, but don't sell them if I can help it. I have a large stock of other homeopathic remedies on hand, and while this advertising is going on I propose to push them on the people who call for Munyon's whenever I can." We wish to say right here that life and death are serious subjects, and the greatest crime man can be guilty of is to deceive and trifle with human affections. Such a person is unworthy of your confidence in any particular whatever. Beware of the man who tells you that these medicines are just as good, for there are no medicines made that possess Professor Munyon's in formula or effect.

The catarrh cure will eradicate the disease from the system and the tablets will cleanse and heal the inflamed parts and restore them to a natural and healthful condition.

THE CUBAN REBELLION.

England Wants to Know True State of Affairs.

Report of British Vice Consul Not Favorable to Spain.

New York, Feb. 12.—A despatch to the Sun from Havana says: England is desirous of being informed, regarding the true state of affairs in the island of Cuba. Mr. Gosling, the vice consul of Great Britain here, under instructions from his government has made a trip of investigation throughout the island and sent his report to the foreign office in London.

Though great secrecy naturally has been preserved at the British consulate concerning the matter, it is known that Mr. Gosling's report is not favorable to Spain. The English diplomatic agent considers that the Spanish government misrule Cuba to an incredible extent and that the immoralities of the Spanish administration are beyond description.

With regard to the war, Mr. Gosling believes that as it is being carried on now it may last many years. The insurgents, he says, cannot be conquered by the Spanish army. The of the Cuban soldiers are not trained veterans and deficiencies in discipline may be observed in their ranks, their leaders are inexperienced, the wonderful strategising for superior to the best Spanish generals. Maximo Gomez, in the opinion of Mr. Gosling, is a military genius. The Spanish reports that he is dodging from one place to another to avoid the attacks of the Spanish troops is false. He always controls the Province in which he operates. Moreover he directs the whole Cuban army from one end of the island to the other, and his subordinates are referred to where he is.

In Santiago de Cuba, Gen. Calixto Garcia, Mr. Gosling says, is master of the situation. The Spanish troops there refuse to engage in any serious fighting and always take refuge in the fortified towns. Through Cuba, as Las Villas, and Havana the Cuban bands are swarming. Four de Rio is not pacified at all, and the Spanish official reports themselves prove that fighting is going on daily there.

Spanish Transport Boat Sunk.

Another Havana special says: Reports indicate the loss of a small Spanish transport boat off Port Deseamas, west of Maglo. The vessel had on board 300 soldiers bound for a small town west of there, which had been threatened by the insurgents. Near Cienfuegos the vessel was decoyed to shore by false lights purporting to be from a Spanish officer. When within a few yards of the land the insurgents fired on it with a rapid firing gun and musketry and in a few minutes the vessel was sunk. Many of the soldiers were killed by the rapid fire. When the boat sank those who were unhurt jumped into the water, but were fired upon by the insurgents and only five reached dry land alive.

The transport Matanzas was also partially wrecked Wednesday, while in the vicinity of that place and three Spanish officers were captured. The Spanish gunboats drove off the insurgents with a loss of 32 killed.

Fired at the Three Friends.

New York, Feb. 12.—A special from Jacksonville, Fla., to the Evening Sun says: The United States cutter Dolphin yesterday morning, fired on the filibuster Three Friends, which has been detained here. The Three Friends was crossing the bar and the Dolphin signalled her to lay to. She went on her way, the Dolphin fired a shot across her bow. The tugs were going out so as to watch for some schooners expected in the morning.

The Three Friends came about and went alongside. After some delay there she was permitted to go on. She went out for an hour and a half and then came back and anchored at Mayport.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Important Documents on Maine Boundary Missing.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Representative Richardson of Tennessee, at the direction of Congress is compiling the state papers of the several presidents from Washington down to Cleveland. Finds his work suddenly brought to a stand still. The final report of the joint commission appointed to explore and survey the boundary line between Maine and New Hampshire and the adjacent British Provinces which was transmitted to Congress by President Tyler, March 3, 1843, cannot be found in any office form among the archives.

The original report is in the State Department, and from it Mr. Richardson learns that four documents were submitted in an appendix. Only one of them, the first, can be found, the fourth, the map was destroyed by fire, but it is supposed to have been reproduced. The remaining documents have not been discovered in any form.

Mr. Richardson hopes that some of the libraries in New England or New York may be in possession of the missing documents.

OHIO SENATORSHIP.

Claimed that Hanna Would Win in Special Session of Assembly.

New York, Feb. 12.—A Canton, O., special says: A canvass of the Ohio assembly has just been completed by "Joe" Smith, the confidential secretary of President-elect McKinley. The result is that the supporters of national Chairman Hanna are convinced that if a special session of the assembly is called for a successor to Senator Sherman, Hanna will be elected by a large majority.

The replies to the canvass are said by Hanna men here to have been almost in the nature of pledges of votes.

The Forker-Bushnell people claim to have taken a sort of poll of the members but it was only an informal one and was made with anything like the thoroughness that has characterized the work of Mr. McKinley's secretary.

If Gov. Bushnell now summons the legislature to a special session, in the face of this poll, it will be taken as an acknowledgment that he has alienated the Hanna friends, to let Mr. Hanna have his own way.

Five more Ohio newspapers have come out for Mr. Hanna for the senatorship in the last few days, making 59 papers in the state now advocating his candidacy.

UP WITH RATES.

Glass Trust to Advance Prices in the West.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—The Pittsburg and western selling agencies of the window glass manufacturers of Chicago will advance prices 2½ per cent., beginning March 1 in the central and western districts. This does not include the Atlantic, Pacific and gulf coast districts, where the imported glass comes into competition.

The jobbers were dissatisfied with the rebate system and the manufacturers abolished it, quoting instead list prices. The manufacturers' committee will meet next week to establish a list of discounts for the eastern coast trade.

DISTILLERS IN SESSION.

Trying to Reach Agreement on Prices.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 12.—President Rice of the American Spirits Mf'g. Co. and a number of leading distillers are holding an important session here. An effort is being made to get the outside distillers, who have been cutting prices, to come to some agreement; but it that is impossible the trust is prepared to show them what cutting really means.

It is believed to be sure that orders will be issued for the reopening of another Peoria distillery to be run with full force.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Congregation Took Exceptions to a Pastor's Remarks.

New York, Feb. 12.—A Times special from Middlesborough, Ky., says: Word has been brought to Middlesborough from United country, Tenn., of the narrow escape, Sunday, of the Rev. John Hutchings while in that district. He is now in hiding in the mountains.

Preacher Hutchings said in his sermon, "The Lord directed the bullet that killed Abraham Lincoln." The congregation is said to have become infuriated at this, and made an attempt to hang the minister, but he escaped, fleeing into the mountains. The mob then visited the preacher's house and battered in the door.

Corbett is naturally the idol of his in this city, and [illegible] everywhere he goes. Everyone wants to know how he feels and [illegible] he never looked better in his life.

"How do I feel? Well, modestly, as strong as I ever felt in anything," said Corbett, in answer to the offhand question.

ARCHBISHOP KAIN.

Issues a Mandate Which Causes Surprise in Upper Circles of Catholicism.

New York, Feb. 12.—A St. Louis special says: The appointments of Rev. Thomas of Miss Fanny Hughes, a Roman Catholic, to Charles [illegible] a Protestant, and of Miss Josephine Rockefeller, Roman Catholic, to Dr. W. H. Whipple, Protestant, have caused a [illegible] in the upper circles of Catholicism here.

Intervention by friends of the contracting couples and the priests to both succeeded with the archbishop not to excommunicate from the church by forbidding Catholics to Protestants, but he told them that they would strictly be accountable [illegible] Catholics.

The archbishop has issued a mandate that will include in its [illegible] all the brides and bridegrooms who officiate at the marriage. The archbishop said: "This rule is not a legal law of the church, but simply a disciplinary regulation. Though [illegible] it is [illegible] disposed to [illegible] the rule [illegible] which cannot be broken. There may be cases where I might allow an infringement of the law, but no such case has yet come under my observation. The archbishop [illegible] such [illegible] marriage."

Ives, vs. the Berlin Mill Co., in which the jury awarded the plaintiff $5,000 damages for injuries received while working in the company's mills at Berlin, on account of alleged defective machinery, and a hearing on the defendant's ten days in which to file a bill of exceptions. The case was tried in Littleton.

He Liked Oysters.

The manager of a Lexington avenue restaurant near Broad Street saw a man in shirt sleeves and a clay pipe in his mouth, individual manifestly from the "round heelocks," stalk into the place and stop at the counter, at which raw oysters are dispensed. "Young fellow," he remarked to the barkeeper, "you kin gimmie some of them raw oysters," a request which was promptly complied with. After the first half dozen had been delicately extracted from their shells and passed before the bucolic epicure the artist who was handling the oyster knife glanced up inquiringly. Seeing the countryman still holding his fork expectantly poised, he continued his operations, and it was a moment or two even until the oysterman had passed to wipe the perspiration from his brow. The countryman then, up to this point, consumed three dozen and a half—42 oysters. "Young feller," he drawled, "when you've opened 10 cents' worth, I reckon you better quit. I believe I don't want no more fresh air dinner's much this time."—Philadelphia Record.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Cretan Insurgents Planning to Make Attack on Canea.

Ocean Steamers Still Delayed by the Fog—Other Items.

London, Feb. 12.—A despatch from Constantinople says that 4,000 Cretan insurgents are known to be concealed in the vicinity of Canea, awaiting the arrival of arms, ammunition and equipments from Sphakia, on the south coast near the western extremity of the Island of Crete, where they have been landed by expeditions from Greece.

When these supplies are received the despatch says, it is the intention of the insurgents to make an attack upon Canea.

The despatch adds that the Turkish authorities are now convinced that the pacification of the island can only be effected by European occupation.

Christians the Aggressors.

London, Feb. 12.—In the house of commons today Mr. George N. Curzon, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, announced that the latest news received by the government showing the situation in Crete was that the Christians were the aggressors and were attacking the Moslems in many localities. A large number of Moslems, Mr. Curzon said, had been killed, and 13 villages had been burned.

Moslems Driven Into Town.

Canea Crete, Feb. 12.—George Berovitel, Pasha, the Christian governor of Crete, having been menaced by the Moslems, has taken refuge in the Greek consulate and his wife has found an asylum at the French consulate pending their departure from the island. The Christians, after a prolonged fight, have driven the Moslems into Canea and are now holding the suburbs, or the town.

Will not Allow Reinforcements to Land.

London, Feb. 12.—The Greek charge D'Affairs here has informed Lord Salisbury that his government has decided to prevent the Turks from landing any reinforcements upon the Island of Crete.

Will not Send Reinforcements.

Constantinople, Feb. 12.—The Porte has given assurance to the powers that Turkey will not send reinforcements to Crete.

Ocean Steamers Delayed by Fog.

Southampton, Feb. 12.—The American line steamer St. Paul, which sailed from New York, Feb. 3, for this port is still fog bound and is anchored off the Needles. Passengers are being landed for their return trip at the company's offices. But officials will not promise that the St. Paul will sail tomorrow, in accordance with the schedule.

The officials of the North Lloyd Steamship Co. here say that the company's steamer Spree from Bremen, Feb. 4, for Southampton and New York, which was detained outside by fog yesterday succeeded in getting away yesterday by proceeding with great caution through the fog.

Disappointed at Redmond's Delay.

Queenstown, Feb. 12.—Much disappointment was occasioned by the non-arrival from New York of John Redmond, M. P., the well known Irish leader. The mayors of New York and Dublin and a number of other delegates from those cities arrived early yesterday morning for the purpose of greeting Mr. Redmond, who is expected to arrive on the steamer Britannic. The vessel was sighted, however, and it is presumed that she has proceeded direct for Liverpool in consequence of the foggy weather prevailing off this port. It had been arranged to have a banquet in honor of Mr. Redmond last evening, but of course, all the plans for his welcoming have fallen through temporarily.

Anxious About the St. Paul and her Passengers.

London, Feb. 12.—A despatch from Southampton says that the statement wired from that place this morning that the American line steamer St. Paul is anchored off the Needles was not given out by the steamship company's officials as a fact, but merely as a matter of surmise.

The officers of the American line at Southampton are besieged with inquiries for information as to the whereabouts of the ship and at 1 o'clock this afternoon it was intimated in the company's offices that no news had been received that would definitely locate the St. Paul, but it was surmised that she was off the Needles.

The fog is still very heavy and a great deal of anxiety for the safety of the ship is felt by those having friends on board of her. The weather at St. Catherine's point, Isle of Wight, is heavy and the sky is overcast and hazy. Branksie Point, the Lizard and The Scilly Islands are enveloped in dense fog.

Harper's Weekly

With the end of 1896 Harper's Weekly will have lived forty years. In that time it has participated with a fine zeal and power at its command in the great political events of the most interesting and important period in the history of the country, and it has spread before its readers the accomplishments of science, arts, and letters for the instruction of the human mind and the amelioration of human conditions and of manners.

What the Weekly has been in its spirit and purpose, as those have been manifested principally in its editorial pages, it will continue to be. It is impossible to anticipate with precision all that the Weekly will contain during the year 1897. It were as easy to announce what is about to happen in the world, what triumphs for good government are to be won, what advances of the people are to be made, what is to be the outcome of the continuous struggle between the spirits of war and peace, what is to happen in the far East, what is to be the state of Europe twelve months hence, what new marvels of science are to be revealed, or what are to be the achievements of arts and letters, for the Weekly is to be a political record of all this.

Cartoons will continue to be a feature.

Serial Stories. A New England story by Miss Mary E. Wilkins, will begin in January. A tale of a Greek uprising against the Turks, by Mr. E. P. Benson, the author of "Dodo," will follow. A sequel to "The Human Boat on the Rhine," by Mr. John Kendrick Bangs, illustrated by Mr. Peter Newell.

More Short Stories will appear in the Weekly than it has been possible to publish during 1896.

Departments: Mr. W. D. Howells' "Life and Letters" have been among the most charming features of periodical literature. Mr. E. S. Martin, and others will contribute observations on what is going on in "This Busy World," "Amateur Sport" will remain the most imp rtant department of its kind in the country.

The Weekly will continue to present to its readers the world's news most interesting to Americans, to make important advances in both the literary and artistic features, and to retain for itself the leading place in the illustrated journalism of the world.

LIFE INSURANCE.

"Life insurance is a fortification against want overtaking a man's family, in case of his premature death; a fortification against his children's entering life's field of battle without the equipment of education; a fortification against inability (from lack of means) of his heirs perpetuating the plans in the fulfilment of which he may have devoted many years of hard work and care; and finally, it is a fortification erected for the protection of the insured against the ravages and arrows of outrageous fortune."

Hugh R. Chaplin, Esq., has been engaged to deliver the Memorial Day address in this city.

Pullen's orchestra went to Dexter yesterday afternoon to furnish music for a ball there last evening.

Arrangements are being made for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Central Congregational parish.

The Woman's Indian Association will meet with Mrs. Moses Giddings, Broadway, Monday, February 15, at 3 p. m.

The will of the late Capt. Nathan Hopkins has been filed at the Probate Court. He leaves all of his property to his wife and appoints her executrix.

Members of the Woman's Hospital Aid Society who have not paid their fees for the year ending June 7, 1897, are requested to send the same at their earliest convenience to Miss Mary H. Merrill, Broadway.

State Superintendent of Schools W. W. Stetson has gone to Indianapolis, Ind., where he will address the committee of the National Educational Association on "The Form and Subject Matter of a State Superintendent's Report."

Rev. C. G. Moefer of the Essex street Free Baptist church has been invited to deliver the address of the evening at the young people's rally to be held at Dexter Friday, February 19th. All the local societies in Dexter and vicinity are to unite in this rally.

An order for 8,000,000 deals has been placed with the lumbermen in this city by Stetson, Cutler & Co., of St. John and Boston, for early spring shipment to England. This is the largest order for deals that has been given to Penobscot millmen for many years.

Thirty young men of this city have organized a minstrel company and have elected Mr. E. J. Pooler president. The company contains some of the best known singers in the city and a fine overture has been written for them for the opening. The brilliant costumes will be a special feature.

Florist Adam Sekenger, who has had a branch of his establishment at the Union waiting room, has transferred it to Caldwell Sweet's drug store. All orders left there will be promptly filled. Fresh cut flowers will be always kept on hand. Today an opening will be held and all are invited to call.

General Passenger Agent Houghton of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad is sending out some neat folders advertising the fish and game region of Maine which is reached by the Bangor & Aroostook road. The front of the folder has a fine cut of Mt. Katahdin from opposite Abol stream.

The train due here at 4.50 a. m. Friday was 50 minutes late in leaving Portland Thursday night. The engine on the train from Boston broke down at Portsmouth and the train waited until No. 127 came along. The two were coupled together and reached Portland, No. 71 an hour late and No. 127 half an hour.

Rev. G. W. Hinckley of Good Will Home is in the city and will have charge of the men's meeting at 4 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. building on Sunday. He will also conduct the meeting for women at the Columbia street Baptist church in the evening. Mr. Hinckley is always warmly welcomed by a Bangor audience.

Daniel Hughes and James Martin, two boarders at Garland's boarding house, got into a discussion yesterday which ended in a fight. The men were badly engaged pummeling each other when Patrolman Knidle made his appearance and quickly put a stop to hostilities. The patrolman landed both men in the police station and they will be before the Municipal Court.

The funeral services of Charles O. Baker, local freight agent of the Maine Central railroad, who died Tuesday, were held at his late residence in Portland Thursday. On account of the illness of Mrs. Baker and Mr. Charles E. Baker, the son of the deceased, the funeral was private. The brief services were conducted by Rev. R. T. Hack and the interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

At the regular meeting of Bangor Lodge of Elks sums of money were voted to the King's Daughters' Home, the Woman's Exchange, Home for Aged Women, Children's Home and to St. John's and St. Mary's Catholic charitable societies. These contributions from the Elks to the public charities do not represent a tithe of the benevolent work of the lodge, as the principles of the order do not allow any mention of the numerous private charities.

Pullen's orchestra returned yesterday from Houlton where on Thursday night it furnished music for the military ball and concert given by Co. L, of the Second Regiment, of the Maine National Guard, which was the event of the season in that town. There was a large attendance at the ball and it was made up of the leading people of Houlton and surrounding towns. Lieut. Frank B. Cummings, of this city, of the Bamfin Rifles, Co. G, attended the event.

The citizens of Hampden are talking of having a new steel bridge to be placed across Sowadabscook stream, just above the mouth on the main river, highway between that town and Bangor, to take the place of the old wooden bridge. The people of the town are, now, examining plans for a new bridge, and will, it is expected, soon hold a town meeting to discuss the matter and vote upon it. The proposition for the building of this bridge very much affects the Bangor, Hampden & Winterport trolley line, because its rails will cross the stream at that point. The company is awaiting the action of the town.

A meeting of the board of managers of the Malob Society, Sons of the American Revolution, was held Thursday afternoon at the office of the secretary in Portland. Among those elected to membership were Hudson T. Frisbie, of Houlton, and Frederick Bankers in Costellow, of Bangor. The annual dinner will occur at the Preble House at 2.30 p. m. on the same day. President Butler, of Rockland, will preside and there will be after dinner addresses by the mayor, Hon. Chas. F. Libby and Rev. Dr. J. L. Jenkins.

A correspondent writes: The citizens of Carmel and vicinity on Wednesday evening, Feb. 10, enjoyed one of the finest entertainments given in this village for many years. The entertainment consisted of the drama "Among the Breakers," given by local talent, concluded by a minstrel show given by the Packards, given by and for the benefit of Camp Carmel, No. 43, U. V. V. The drama was rendered in a manner reflecting great credit upon each actor and was received in manner indicating an appreciative audience. The minstrel performance was one of the best ever given here, being both new and well executed. The management were well repaid financially, as the town hall was filled to overflowing and many turned away unable to gain admission.

THE HAMLIN MEMORIAL.

Meeting of the Committee to Talk Over the Matter—Proposed Grand Dedication.

The Hamlin memorial committee met at Judge S. F. Humphrey's office yesterday afternoon, Maj. G. M. Barbour, representative of the Gorham Manufacturing Co., being present. He explained many matters pertaining to the erection of a statue and stated that his company would very much like to have the decision of the committee on the memorial as soon as possible, that work might be begun immediately if the company has given the order. The concern has been to considerable expense but makes no account of that if it is decided not to erect the memorial, as it took the chances, of course, but if the commission is to be given it would like it. The committee will meet again next Thursday and will then invite leading citizens to gather and definitely decide the question.

The model now on exhibition at Warren's drug store is attracting great attention. It represents Mr. Hamlin as he appeared when Vice-President, erect and dignified. Some people have said it didn't look natural as there was no stoop to the shoulders, but the stoop came only in his last days and furthermore in a statue nine feet tall the effect would be entirely spoiled if the figure had a slight stoop even. The pure Grecian style is followed in the construction of the pedestal and shaft, grand in its simplicity and gli harmonious with the subject. Maj. Barbour says a great deal of study was undertaken in preparing the model, both as to the position of the figure and the details of attitude and character of the pedestal.

If the company receives the commission $10,000 of the granite work will be done here. The company will contract to have it completed and ready for dedication in August, 1898, before the birthday of Mr. Hamlin. There is talk of making the dedication, if the plans are carried out a grand affair, inviting the President and Vice-President of the United States, the New England Congressmen and governors and other dignitaries, as well as the naval officers who may happen to be at Bar Harbor. As the Bar Harbor season will be at its height at that time many distinguished men are sure to be there and would doubtless attend the dedication.

As regards the location of the proposed memorial, the suggestion that it be placed in front of the custom house at about the spot where the fountain now is has met with much favor. In that case the watering trough on the pedestal of the statue would be changed to a drinking fountain. Maj. Barbour favors that location as the best and most appropriate about town that he has seen. The committee feel hopeful that the project can be carried through successfully. Maine granite and materials will be used in the construction as much as possible.

VICKERY-BREININGER.

Bangor Gentleman Weds a Harrisburg, Pa., Young Lady.

Cards have been received in this city by which Mr. and Mrs. Louis Breininger announce the marriage of their daughter, Erminie, to Mr. Gilbert S. Vickery, of Bangor. The happy event took place at the home of the bride's parents at Harrisburg, Pa., Wednesday, February 10, and Mr. and Mrs. Vickery are now on their wedding trip. They are expected to arrive in Bangor to-day.

Mr. Vickery is a graduate of the Maine State College class of '89 and after leaving college held excellent positions in Boston and Pennsylvania. Two years ago he became Bangor's city engineer and has filled the position in a most efficient and thoroughly able manner. He has inaugurated a number of special improvements and has kept the office entirely up to date. He is a young man of excellent ability and has many friends.

The bride is an accomplished and highly esteemed young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Vickery will have the wishes of their many friends for a most happy future. Mr. and Mrs. Vickery will be "at home" after April 1 at No 12, Leighton street, Bangor.

Tenth Anniversary.

A Springfield correspondent writes: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Milliken celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage at the home of Mrs. Milliken's sister, Mrs. J. A. Reed, Friday evening, February 5th. A large company of invited guests was present. The literary entertainment consisted of a poem read by Mrs. E. A. Reed, also a poem read by Mr. E. H. Pratt, principal of the Springfield high school; a song by Mrs. E. W. Stevens; an original poem by Mrs. A. A. Blanchard, read by Mrs. Jessie Johnson; a song by Mr. Milliken and a piano duet by Misses Minnie Reed and Agnes Burr. Rev. I. B. Cauley in a very graceful, short address, presented Mr. and Mrs. Milliken with valuable presents from their friends as a slight token of their esteem. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served, and after a time spent socially the guests departed thinking Mr. and Mrs. Milliken for a delightful evening and wishing them many happy returns of the day.

ESTEEMED CITIZEN DEAD.

Mr. George F. Godfrey Passes Away Friday Morning.

The community was shocked on Friday to learn of the death of Mr. George Frederick Godfrey which occurred yesterday morning at his residence on Kenduskeag avenue, a heart trouble being the cause. Mr. Godfrey had been ill a little over a week, but his death, although not entirely unexpected, was quite sudden. His death will be mourned by a large number of friends in Maine and other States.

Mr. Godfrey was the son of the late Hon. John E. Godfrey, judge of probate and one of Bangor's most prominent citizens. He received his education in the Bangor schools and when a young man, in 1860, went with other young men to South America, landing at Buenos Ayres. For several years he was engaged in sheep ranching in that country.

Upon his return from South America he engaged in the lumber business in this city, the location of the establishment being that now occupied by Morse & Co's mills. Mr. Godfrey sold out to Morse & Co. and in 1880 became a member of the firm of Ticknor & Co., the large Boston publishing house. This partnership continued five years and the company then sold out to Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

Mr. Godfrey then retired from active business and devoted himself to his private affairs and the indulgence of his literary taste. He possessed a large and very choice library, much of which was collected during his connection with the book publishing company, when he had excellent opportunities to obtain rare volumes as well as current literature.

Mr. Godfrey was a man of commanding appearance, genial in disposition and courteous in manners. He was a well informed man and a pleasant and profitable companion. He attended the Unitarian church, being one of its prominent supporters, was a Republican in politics and was a member of the Tarratine Club.

His age was 6[illegible] years, he having been born on October 23d, 1829. In March, 1868, he married Miss Abbie Rawson Prentiss, of this city, daughter of Mrs. H. E. Prentiss, who survives him with two children, Mrs. Milton S. Clifford and Mr. Edward L. Godfrey, a student at Bowdoin College, both of this city. They will have the deep sympathy of a host of friends in their bereavement. Two other sons were born to them but they died a number of years ago.

The funeral services will be held on Sunday at 2.30 p. m. at his late residence on Kenduskeag avenue.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

February Criminal Term, 1897.

Chief Justice Peters presiding.
Benjamin L. Smith, Esq., County Attorney.
Rufus Smith, Esq., Reporter.
Charles R. Brown, Esq., Sheriff.
Charles F. Swett, Esq., Clerk.

Friday, February 12.

The jury in the case of State vs. Joseph Godfrey, on the charge of mayhem, reported a disagreement this morning. Godfrey renewed his bail bond of $300 for his appearance at the August term of court.

A few minutes before 10 o'clock John F. Robinson, Esq., attorney for the defence in the case of State vs. Walter K. Shaw, on the charge of embezzlement, began his argument for a continuance until the August term of court to be held in this city. Shaw is awaiting trial under $6,000 bonds and under an indictment from the February grand jury.

County Attorney Smith appeared for the State.

Mr. Robinson based his motion upon the claim that the defence has not had time and cannot have time to prepare a proper case for trial at this term. If asked that he be allowed until the first day of the August term to prepare himself as the mixed condition of the Shaw business was such that evidence could not be readily obtained. He said that the defendant's father (Elisha W. Shaw) has been very unfortunate of late, he has lost much of his property and is broken down by misfortune. Mr. Robinson also spoke of the wife and the sister of the defendant, as reasons why he should be allowed every chance.

County Attorney Smith spoke against the allowing of the motion. He felt deeply for the relatives of the respondent, but the man was either innocent or guilty, and he should be heard in both cases at once. Mr. Smith told of the extended proceedings in the insolvency court of late, in which Shaw's business has been thoroughly ventilated and in which much that would be used as evidence has already been brought out.

Chief Justice Peters after hearing the counsel and county attorney said that he would give a decision on Saturday morning.

William Annis was tried on the charge of incest with his daughter. The case was given to the jury in the afternoon and it took only a few minutes to bring in a verdict of guilty.

Seymour-Stratton Comedians.

Seymour-Stratton Comedians, who commence a week's engagement at the Opera House Monday evening next, in the five act drama "Manhood," are doing a fine business in Lewiston this week. The Sun of that city says:

The Seymour-Stratton company played to good houses at the Opera House yesterday both matinee and evening.

The same excellent work characterized the production of "The Diplomat" last night as displayed by the company since its engagement.

It must be said in praise of the company that they present their repertoire in a most finished and artistic manner and Lewiston has never had such an opportunity to witness fine theatricals at cheap prices.

The attendance to-day should be large. The company is well deserving of it.

Seats for the entire engagement are now on sale at the box office.

GREAT FRANCIS MURPHY.

Francis Murphy, the oldest known temperance advocate in the world, was born 90 years ago in an humble cottage in Ireland. He is the founder of the "blue ribbon" and "iron clad pledge" movements. Mr. Murphy and Mr. Moody have recently been labor together in some of the large cities. How deeply they have entered into the affections of the country everyone knows.

Five thousand people have just signed Mr. Murphy's temperance pledge in Boston.

Mr. Murphy is a great believer in Paine's celery compound. For years he has often thoughtfully observing and advising men for their bodily and spiritual welfare.

"A sound mind in a sound body" has been the constant theme of this great philanthropist.

Because of its power of strengthening and restoring the nerves, and "brain Paine's celery compound is used today in many such families as that of Mr. Murphy where no other remedy would be thought of for a moment.

Mr. Murphy writes to The Boston Globe:—"Paine's celery compound has been used in my family with good effect. It is a splendid remedy."

The discoverer of this most successful of remedies was no mere theorist. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL.D., of the Dartmouth Medical School had accumulated the most absolutely convincing evidence of the remarkable virtue of his great discovery, enough to satisfy the most skeptically inclined person, before he offered Paine's celery compound to his fellow practitioners and to the world.

For absolute reliability in driving obstinate disorders from the system there is nothing that at all resembles approaches Paine's celery compound. It should be taken by everyone who is trying to get rid of nerve or blood disease or a disordered condition of the liver or kidneys.

Such blood troubles as unhealthy conditions, those important but lack of health, dyspepsia or constipation, disappear under the beneficial influence of Paine's celery compound.

Don't confound Paine's celery compound with the ignorant, cold, sparkling, short-lived promises of worthless advices and notices that have appeared in imitation of Paine's celery compound and as the purchase plainly shows that they live only. Don't take any thing but Paine's celery compound.

HORSE THIEF CAPTURED.

Stole a Team in Exeter, Which Was Recovered Here.

The police Thursday night found a horse and sleigh at the foot of Exchange street, where the animal had been hitched some time and as no owner appeared after some hours the officers took the team in charge. Yesterday a description of a man who stole a team, robe, fur coat, etc., from Chas. E. Dunton, of Exeter, was received and it was found that the police already had the team in their possession for it was the one they found the night before.

Last evening Capt. Fabey and Officer Mackie arrested the thief, who travels under most any old name that comes handy. He gave the name of Alexander Trostrop. And this is Alexander Hanson and he served a term in State prison under the name of Andrew Lawson. He stole the outfit from Mr. Eaton, for whom he worked, Wednesday night, and drove here.

He was arrested at the mission over the blue store on Exchange street. He is a Dane and about 35 or 40 years old. Turnkey Bragdon of the jail identified him as the one who was in state prison when Mr. Bragdon was a guard there. The fur coat is missing, although Trostrop wore it Thursday night here. The officers made a good capture.
